

THE DAILY CITIZEN.

J. D. CAMERON, Editor.
H. D. CHILDS, Business Manager.

THE DAILY CITIZEN will be published every afternoon (except Sunday) at the following rates—strictly cash:
One Year.....$6.00
Six Months.....3.00
Three Months.....1.50
One Month......50
One Week......15

Our carriers will deliver the paper every afternoon in every part of the city to our subscribers, and parties wanting it will please call at the CITIZEN OFFICE.

Advertising Rates—Reasonable, and made known on application at this office. All transient advertisements must be paid in advance.

The CITIZEN is the most extensively circulated and widely read newspaper in Western North Carolina.

Its discussion of public men and measures is in the interest of public integrity, honest government, and prosperous industry, and it knows no personal allegiance in treating public issues.

Specimen copies of any edition will be sent free to any sending their address.

Reading notices ten cents per line. Obituary, marriage and society notices fifty cents each (not exceeding ten lines) or fifty cents per inch.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 9, 1890.

THE DAILY CITIZEN
Is on sale at the following places in Asheville:
CITIZEN OFFICE,
HATLEY PARK NEWS STAND,
GLEN ROCK NEWS STAND,
MOBILE CIGAR STORE, Patton Ave.,
J. CARSON'S NEWS STORE, North Court Square.

PERTINENT AND PERSONAL.

News About Ashevilleans and of Strangers Within Our Gates.

Dr. W. D. Hilliard returned yesterday from Virginia.

M. O. Allen, of Anburn, N. Y., is at the Battery Park.

B. P. Beard, of Philadelphia, is registered at the Glen Rock.

G. W. Freehafer, of Indianapolis, is registered at the Glen Rock.

There were ninety-nine arrivals at the leading hotels yesterday.

R. McKinley, of St. Catharines, Ont., is at the Battery Park.

G. W. Crawford, a lawyer of Marion, was in the city this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Boulton are at the Battery Park from New York.

Dr. Kernstrin and son are registered at the Glen Rock from Charleston.

J. C. Wheeler, of Great Barrington, Mass., is registered at the Glen Rock.

Capt. M. J. Fagg has returned from Alabama, where he has a plantation.

Maj. W. H. Malone returned yesterday from a visit to Tate's Springs, Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Angel are at the Glen Rock. They are from Genesee, N. Y.

J. M. Williams and Mrs. Ferry, of Chicago, are registered at the Battery Park.

G. B. Thompson, a prominent business man of Old Fort, spent to-day in Asheville.

Mr. and Mrs. Grey K. Petton, of New York, are at the Swannanoa for a few days.

Mrs. W. H. Burch and child and Mrs. Previtt, of Nashville, Tenn., are at the Grand Central.

L. N. Keating, N. McGrath and C. S. Dearborn are at the Swannanoa from Muskegon, Mich.

Geo. Heck, of Knoxville, who has recently purchased property in West Asheville, is in the city.

The glass surrounding the front piazza of the Battery Park hotel was taken down yesterday.

A. Van Santwood and Miss A. T. Van Santwood, of New York, are registered at the Battery Park.

Chas. E. Dugan and Miss Mary Dugan, of Amsterdam, N. Y., are registered at the Swannanoa.

One of the open cars of the street railway was put into use this morning for the first time this season.

C. C. McCarthy and wife have sold to C. T. Rawls and F. A. Sumner a lot on Haywood street for $2,000.

Rev. S. N. Barker, president of the Asheville Female College, has gone to Madison, Va., on a business trip.

Massachusetts is represented at the Battery Park by Franklin Weston, of Dalton, and F. Green, of Cambridge.

The drugs for the Flower Mission will be purchased this month from Carmichael's and the groceries from McDonald.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. F. Dwight, Miss Mabel Dwight and Miss Edith Latham, of Stockbridge, Mass., are quartered at the Swannanoa.

The auction sale of lots on Charlotte street by Matt Atkinson & Son will take place to-morrow at 11 o'clock. Free rides on the street car will be one of the conveniences to purchasers.

The monthly meeting of the ladies' committee of the Y. M. C. A. will be held to-morrow, April 10, at 5 p. m., in the boys' room of the association. All members are requested to be present.

Pursuant to an order of the Board of County Commissioners the old records in the office of the clerk of the superior court will soon be indexed. This has been much needed and will be a material aid to those using books.

The monthly meeting of the Young Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held in the Y. M. C. A. hall to-morrow (Thursday) afternoon, at 4 o'clock sharp. All young ladies are cordially invited to be present, either as visitors or members of the union.

Mr. S. P. Brittain, of Hendersonville, N. C., who has been keeping the Franklin house, at Franklin, N. C., for the past two years, has gone into partnership with Mr. A. A. Banks, proprietor of the Hotel Robinson, at Tallulah Falls, Ga., and is running the Mountain View hotel, at Clarksville, Ga.

As many coming as are going.

April is usually considered to be a rather dull month in Asheville owing to the fact that it is too late for the winter visitors and rather early for the summer, and it has been reported rather widely that the crowd is leaving here.

Mr. Winburn, the division passenger agent of the Western North Carolina road, is authority for the statement that the travel to Asheville is not falling off and as many visitors are coming in as there are leaving now.

BOGUS ORDER RACKET.

ANOTHER NEGRO TRIES HIS HAND AT IT.

He is Caught but Escapes—The Order is a Good Piece of Forgery, but it Didn't Go—Mr. Marston Talks.

Another negro with a bogus school order showed up yesterday. He was not as successful as his predecessor although like him he made his escape.

The man first went to the store of Mr. Hall in West Asheville and presented the document for payment and offered to discount it, because of its not being due for several months. Mr. Hall, however, was suspicious and refused to buy it.

The fellow left the store and went across the river to the place of business of Mr. T. S. Morrison and again asked to have it discounted. Policeman Green happened to be in at that time and he put the fellow under arrest and took the order from him. On the way over town the negro made his escape and could not be found again.

The order was turned over to Officer Hampton and Mr. Marston admitted that the signature of approval was wonderfully like his own. The initials were wrong but in other respects it was a fine piece of forgery. The order read:

To the Treasurer of the Board of Education Buncombe county, State of North Carolina.

Pay to W. S. Blakely or order twenty-two dollars on or after the first Monday in July, 1890, for service rendered as caretaker and charge the same to district No. 4 of said county and for so doing this shall be your warrant.

This third day of March, 1890.

SAM DHOER, J.
ROBT. HARDEN, J. Com.
R. H. STARNES,
County Superintendent.

Approved:

This is the second time in three weeks that a bogus school order has been thrust on an unsuspecting public by a negro. The first netted $10 to the forger and the second might have been successfully worked. It is these things that make Mr. Marston rise and explain.

"Whenever a school order is presented for payment to any merchant in this town," he said this morning, "it should always be refused unless the parties are known. Buncombe county can always pay its teachers and laborers. It has money on hand and is prepared to meet all bills when they are presented. If it should ever occur that a teacher's salary cannot be paid at the end of the month the teacher will not be hired."

"It is a very good plan to cash no orders whatever."

HE WANTED INFORMATION.

And an Obliging Conductor Furnished It.

A gentleman from Wayback township got on the electric car at the depot a few days ago and took his seat with seeming fear and trembling. When the car started he was all eyes and for the first four or five hundred yards he was apparently attempting to solve some deep problem. Finally the conductor passed by and the Wayback resident stopped him.

"Don't you have no horses on this car?" he asked anxiously.

"Nary a horse," replied the conductor.

"Wal, how does the car run, anyway?"

The conductor saw his opportunity for sport.

"Why, that man in front runs it," he answered, at the same time pointing to the motorman.

"Gosh, does he? I bet he gets mighty tired. How does he do it—with that brake?"

"That's it," replied the blue-coated official shortly and went to the end of the car.

For a few moments the countryman sat in silence, but when the car came to the grade on South Main street it was too much for him and he went back to his friend the conductor to gain some more useful information.

"Does that poor fellow have to pull the car up this grade?" he asked.

"Yes sir," replied the second George Washington. "That's just what he has to do."

"Well, he'll have a thunderin' hard time of it, won't he? Say, stop the car; I'll get off and walk. I don't want any one weak-looking man like that to have to pull me up this hill."

"Oh, take your seat," replied the conductor. "He's used to it. That's what we keep him for."

The man did as he was told, and until the top of the hill was reached he kept quiet. Then the fare indicator caught him and he studied it earnestly for several minutes. Finally he took his watch from his pocket and compared the two. Apparently they did not agree, for a minute later he stepped up to his new friend.

"Have you got the right time?" he asked.

"To a minute," responded that worthy and reached for his watch.

But the countryman did not wait.

"I have got East Tennessee time," he said. "I guess I will set with you," and stepping into the car he ran his watch up to the indicator.

He left the car at Court Place.

A Straw Ride.

A party of young ladies and gentlemen, chaperoned by Mrs. Frank A. Mitchell, of Norwich, Conn., indulged in a moonlight straw ride last night. They went to the Bungalow and Sulphur Springs. The young ladies were Misses Birdie and Nellie Conway, of Philadelphia, Miss Alice Raymond, of Providence, R. I., and Miss Hattie Allen, of Norwich, Conn., all stopping at the Swannanoa.

The young gentlemen were Julian Dreese, Chas. E. Hilliard, B. H. Sumner, L. P. McLoud, Fred Rutledge and Ben Jones.

Fell With a Scaffold.

Ed. Donahue and T. L. Harbin fell with a scaffold yesterday on which they were working and were slightly injured. The men were at work on a new building on Southside avenue and had put up the framework themselves. It had but one nail in it and gave way. Harbin was more injured than Donahue, although neither are seriously hurt.

GOSSIP OF THE DAY.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The echoes of Dewey interviews that came to us through the Northern newspapers would appear to indicate that the noted orator's opinions regarding certain Southern institutions are modified, or more properly made more radical, to suit Northern tastes as the great interviewed one progresses toward the north.

The Jewish population of Palestine has increased wonderfully in the last five years. In 1741 Palestine had only 8,000 Jews; in 1883 there were 20,000, and in the end of 1888 over 70,000 were reported to be dwelling in and around the Holy Land.

Business Notices.

Easter Booklets and Gifts.

A complete line of Easter Booklets from best publishers. Easter gifts in great variety in rare China and Silver novelties. An invoice of choice Decorated China, my own importation, just received.

J. H. LAW,
57, 59 and 61 S. Main St.

The Mountain Park Hotel, Hot Springs, N. C.

Is first class in every particular, with the best table in the South. Pure and abundant water and perfect sanitary arrangements.

The scenery is beautiful, climate much milder than Asheville, there being no harsh winds and no dust to irritate weak throats and lungs.

The baths in marble pools are the finest in the world and the thermal waters are an unexcelled specific for rheumatism, gout, sciatica, nervous exhaustion and all diseases of skin and blood.

Excellent physicians reside at the hotel.

Trains leave Asheville for Hot Springs at 7:30 a. m., 4:36 and 7 p. m. Excursion tickets, including one day's board at Mountain Park hotel, $4.50. For rates etc., address

Adv. W. G. DOOLITTLE.

A Card.

Wills Bros., architects, having opened an office in Asheville for the practice of their profession, would call the attention of parties about to build to the fact that they have had a varied experience in eastern cities and abroad and are prepared to design in the most modern styles all kinds of buildings on the best and most approved scientific principles.

Having been well educated in the practical construction of buildings and afterwards having a thorough professional training in the artistic and scientific branches, they can confidently place themselves before the public as the equals of any in the South.

Wills Bros. will be pleased to see any intending to build, at their office or correspond with them, and to show sketches and perspectives of work done elsewhere by them and to consult about buildings in contemplation.

Asheville, N. C., and Knoxville, Tenn. Office in Barnard building, P. O. Box 554.

The Children's League.

The Ministering Children's League will give an entertainment at Battery Park Saturday, April 12, at 3:30 p. m.

The children will be assisted by some ladies and gentlemen, with music and a recitation. There will be some scenes by the children themselves, and after the performance refreshments can be had.

The members of the League in addition to their other acts of charity have undertaken the care of two children in the Children's Home, and the object of the entertainment is to increase the relief fund.

Admission, 25 cents.

The Asheville Citizen Gives

The latest local news.
The freshest State news.
The best general news.
General and special comments.
The largest subscription list of any secular paper in the State.

The best advertising medium in the State.
A full staff of able editors and correspondents.
The newest, newsiest and most enterprising paper in North Carolina.

The Asheville Citizen is devoted to the upbuilding and development of the resources of the State, particularly the Western section.

Subscription, $6 per annum; $3 six months; 50 cents per month.

They Return Thanks.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., April 8, 1890.
The teachers of the colored industrial school return sincere thanks to all who so kindly assisted in the concert at Battery Park last Saturday night. We also extend a cordial invitation to visit our school at 249 College street.

E. C. RUSSELL,
E. C. LEVERING,
A. B. DOLE.

One Dollar Reward.

We offer ONE DOLLAR reward to any one who will show us a sack of poor ROLLER KING or ELECTRIC LIGHT FLOUR from our mills. Buy Asheville Milling Company's Flour and you are sure of getting the BEST.

Paint! Paint!

The Averill Paint is the best. Outwears all others. Beautiful and economical. In general use 25 years. Guaranteed. Sample card free.

FITZPATRICK BROS. & ROBERTSON,
Asheville.

Home Manufactories.

Support Home Manufactories by buying their goods. There is no better Flour made for the price than Electric Light Flour. Ask your grocer for it and take no other.

The Best on Earth.

What are you paying for your FLOUR? The Asheville Milling Co.'s ROLLER KING FLOUR, the best on earth can be had at most any grocer's at $6 per barrel.

Mr. E. G. Carrier offers to-day for sale a valuable property, the Sulphur Springs Hotel, including fifty acres of land, on easy terms. This should find a ready purchaser.

Read THE CITIZEN Ticket in Carmichael's advertisement. Cut it out and get a glass of his famous Whipped Cream SODA FREE OF CHARGE.

New Advertisements To-Day.

FIRST PAGE—W. C. Carmichael.
SECOND PAGE—ASHEVILLE DRY GOODS Co.—Special Sale.
FOURTH PAGE—LOST—This Office.
FOR SALE—E. G. Carrier.
WANTED—J. B. "This Office.

FOR SALE!

THE ASHEVILLE
SULPHUR SPRINGS
HOTEL.

Including Furniture and Pictures. With from 50 to 700 acres of land. Terms easy.

Apply to

april 9m
E. G. CARRIER.

WANTED.

A partner with small capital to invest in business in which he can double his money in a few months. Address J. B. "This Office."

LOST

S. W. & D. A. 1309, pearl handle, hammerless. Liberal reward. "CITIZEN OFFICE."

The Daily Citizen.

Is always alive